

Notice Re: Name Change to 21Shares Terra ETP (LUNA)

On 13 May 2022, the issuer, 21Shares AG, published a decision to suspend trading and settlement of the 21Shares Terra ETP (LUNA) due to the instability of the Terra Blockchain and the related severe price dislocations and illiquidity of the underlying crypto-currency, LUNA.

The Terra Foundation has since announced that the existing Terra Blockchain Network will be renamed Terra Classic and that the respective token, LUNA, will be renamed LUNA Classic (LUNC).

Accordingly, 21Shares AG will change the name of this product to 21Shares Terra Classic ETP (LUNA) effective 6 June 2022.

The issuer will continue to carefully monitor developments related to the Terra Blockchain to determine whether re-opening trading in the product at some point in the future is warranted. The issuer also reserves the right to maintain the suspended status of the product or to terminate the product at any time.

Any investor should be aware that this is a high-risk investment. For further information, please refer to the Base Prospectus dated 12 November 2021, and the respective Final Terms.
